

Technician for FTI design & drawings (m/f/d) – location Manching

We are looking for a technician for FTI design & drawings (m/f/d) for our renowned customer from the aerospace industry in the field of temporary employment starting IMMEDIATELY or as soon as possible at the Manching location on a full-time basis.

Job description:

Following tasks will be part of your job:

- Preparation of electrical drawings in AutoCAD
- Support for preparation of project / equipment data sheets
- Support for Flight Test Instrumentation (FTI) configuration control

Your profile:

- You have successfully completed a training as an electric mechanic or an aircraft mechanic or any similar technical education. Additionally, you have a successfully graduated as technician or as master craftsman.
- You have professional experience in creation of electrical level 1 diagrams. Experience in the field of aircraft systems is desirable.
- Your language skills in German are business fluent and advanced in English.
- You are an excellent team player with good communication skills. Your work style is characterized by independence and own initiative. Your pronounced cooperation completes your profile.

We are interested and you feel addressed by this position?

Then do not hesitate to send us your complete application documents, stating your salary expectations and your possible start date to the following email address:

c.riepold@fabplus.de

Alternatively, you can also send us your application folder by post:

fabplus GmbH - Attn.: C. Riepold - Höslersstraße 7b - 86660 Tapfheim - Germany

We look forward to receiving your detailed application.

In case of any further questions please contact Mrs. Riepold (Tel.: 01590 / 4 28 68 15).